Observes Its National Holiday With Processions, Speeches And Fireworks.

DREYFUS IS SPECIALLY HONORED

Even St. Louis People Celebrate Great National Holiday Of Their Mother Country With Speeches And Picnic.

Paris, July 14.—All France laid aside work and worry today to enjoy the usual festivities in celebration of the national holiday, the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille. There was a military review at Longchamps, which was witnessed by a large number of people. At all naval and military stations there were reviews, followed by illuminations, fireworks and balls in the evening.

Usual Zest.
The Parisians participated in the festivities with their usual zest. Wreaths were placed on the Strasbourg monument in the Place de la Concorde, by various deputations. As the evening wore on the city presented a brilliant and animated spectacle, open-air dancing, pyrotechnic displays and a general illumination being the principal features.

The Dreyfus Feature.
The celebration of the national holiday today is assuming a special significance in connection with Dreyfus resuming his place in the army. The official journal this morning published the decree announcing his reinstatement and promotion and the inscription of his name on the list of cavaliers of the Legion of Honor. Dreyfus, who remains in his apartment, is besieged by many friends, congratulating him on his final success. Hundreds of felicitations have reached him by mail, telegraph and cable. The condition of Under Secretary of State Serrault, who was dangerously wounded yesterday in a duel with M. Puigies-Conti, following the passage of the law restoring Dreyfus to the army, is stationary.

In St. Louis.
St. Louis, Mo., July 14.—The Franco-American residents of St. Louis and vicinity united in a grand celebration of the French independence day today. The celebration was held at Lemp's park, the program consisting of music, oratory, games, pyrotechnics and dancing. The oration of the day was delivered by former Lieutenant-Governor Charles P. Johnson.

ONE MAN INJURED IN A TRAIN WRECK

Chicago Paper Train Wrecked Just Out of Chicago Early This Morning.

A wreck of the paper train which leaves Chicago at 3 o'clock in the morning and arrives here at about six occurred today and resulted in several injuries and probably the death of Fireman Ed Leary of Chicago. The train had just left Chicago when it struck a switch-engine on a cross-over near Mayfair. Mr. Leary is unmarried and was employed on the Wisconsin Division of the North-Western road. His side was crushed and he is reported to be in a dying condition in Chicago. Engineer William Clark of Baraboo of the Madison Division received some injuries, though not serious. Conductor Astrom and Baggageman Gifford were well shaken up. Both locomotives were badly wrecked and other damages are reported to the coaches. Members of the switch-engine crew were somewhat injured, but not seriously. The papers were delayed and did not reach Janesville until nine o'clock.

SENT WIFE ON VISIT THEN MADE HIS EXIT

Before Departing, However, Martin Dohs Sold Household Goods to Junk Men—Family Homeless.

This morning Mrs. Martin Dohs and three little children, one of them a babe but a few weeks old, visited the police station and told a pitiful story of desertion on the part of an apparently cruel and faithless husband and father. The family had been living in a house adjoining the Rock River Cotton mills. A week ago Tuesday the wife, on advice of her husband, went to visit with relatives in Watertown. Yesterday she was apprised of the fact that Dohs had disposed of most of the household goods and departed for parts unknown. She hurried back here and while walking the streets saw her cookstove and bed-room set deposited on a junk dealer's wagon. A cousin has given her shelter for a day or two and the police are making an effort to locate and seize the household goods. Dohs has not been seen here, so far as can be learned, since Tuesday. He left a curt note stating that he had decided to go west in search of better employment. It is believed, however, that he has not gotten further than Beloit. The wife says that she and her husband never quarreled and she can assign no reason for his strange behavior, other than that he was dissatisfied with his employment at Watson's hotel.

TEN THOUSAND ELKS INVADE DENVER FOR GRAND LODGE MEET

Colorado Metropolis Welcomes Vanguard of Conventioneers and Expects Forty Thousand More.

Denver, Colo., July 14.—Although the Grand Lodge of Elks does not meet here until Monday, all previous records are already broken in attendance. Up to noon today fully 10,000 had registered, not including those accompanying the members of the order. The local committee expects fully 50,000 visitors in the city by the first of the week.

The business section of the city is gorgeously dressed in purple and white, the official colors of the Elks. The electrical display at night is said to surpass anything of the kind attempted before in this country. While trips to the mountains and other diversions are furnished the visitors, the delegates already here are canvassing the situation in regard to the election of grand exalted ruler and grand exalted secretary.

The formal opening of the convention will take place Monday evening in the Tabernacle opera house. Governor McDonald will make an address of welcome. He will also Mayor Speer, Grand Exalted Ruler Robert W. Brown of Louisville will deliver a short address, and Perry Clay, one of the most eloquent Elks of Colorado, will deliver the address of welcome on behalf of the reunion committee, and there will be an elaborate musical program. It will be the first time that the Elks have held their convention opening in the evening.

The parade comes on Thursday. The parade will probably be the grandest pageant of its kind that ever has moved through the streets of an American city. Scores of bands have been engaged, and another feature will be the natty uniforms of the marchers. Beautiful and costly prizes will be given for the best appearing delegation, the largest delegation in line, the lodge that has traveled the greatest distance to reach the reunion, and the lodge bringing the largest number of ladies. The prizes will be paid and gold and silver bricks, secured from the mines in the vicinity of Denver, and melted in the new mint here. While the delegates are engaged in their business sessions, many entertainments have been arranged for other visiting Elks and their ladies.

The line has been rushed to completion to accommodate the rush of settlers for the opening of the Shoshone Indian reservation. Worland is the principal registration point for the reservation opening. The new train service provides for direct connection at Toluca with the two daily trains from Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and Lincoln and the one daily train from this city.

HEIR OF HOWARDEN TWENTY-ONE TODAY

Grandson of Great Gladstone and Master of Famous Old Castle Attains Majority.

London, July 14.—Hawarden was on fete today in celebration of the coming of age of William Charles Gladstone, the favorite grandson and heir of the famous statesman, William Ewart Gladstone. The birthday festivities will extend over several days and will include a tenants' dinner, a garden party for friends and a children's treat. Young Gladstone is the possessor of a considerable fortune, inherited from his mother's family. The historic Hawarden castle was captured by Dwydd, brother of Llewelyn, Prince of Wales, as far back as 1283. Centuries later it was dismantled by Parliament during the Civil War, when it became the property of Sergeant Glynn, from whom it descended to the late William E. Gladstone through his wife. Young Gladstone has been finishing his education at Oxford, where he has achieved distinction as one of the best speakers of the famous Oxford union. Although he is master of Hawarden castle, he is not the chief of the Gladstone family. This is a dignity which belongs to the famous statesman's nephew, Sir John Gladstone, a retired officer of the Guards.

Gov. H. Stauff to Speak. George H. Stauff, superintendent of schools at Sharon, will be the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting at 3 p. m. tomorrow. His subject is to be "The Great Need."

TROOPS GATHERED IN MILITARY CAMPS

Mt. Gretna, Pa., Opened and All Is in Readiness for Ben Harrison, Ind.

Lebanon, Pa., July 14.—The camp at Mt. Gretna, one of the six summer camps to be maintained in various parts of the country this year for the practical training of both the regular army and the militia of the several states, will be opened tomorrow and will continue for three months or more. The Mt. Gretna camp is regarded as one of the most important of the six as it includes the states embodied in the vast territory known as the Department of the East, and which embraces sixty per cent of the entire citizen soldiery of the country. General Frederick G. Grant, commander of the Department of the East, is in command of the camp and will conduct the maneuvers. The regular troops from the various army posts throughout the East will assist in the training of the state militia. The maneuvers will in many respects partake of the features of the United States army maneuvers formerly held at Manassas, Va. Rifle, cannon and carbine practice will receive more than usual attention and the state rifle range will be used for that purpose.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 14.—All arrangements have been completed for the great military camp at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, the new military post near this city. Under orders from the war department the regular troops which are to take part in the maneuvers are to leave their present quarters tomorrow under orders to march at least 250 miles of the way. During the summer the maneuvers will be participated in by the regular troops from Fort Sheridan, Fort Thomas, Fort Wayne, Ft. Brady, Fort Omaha and Jefferson Barracks. In addition the states of West Virginia, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky have been invited to send their state militia to take part.

WILLIAM WINTER IS SEVENTY YEARS OLD

Famed Dramatic Critic and Veteran of Class Is Active at Three Score and Ten.

New York, July 15.—William Winter, the well-known dramatic critic, will be 70 years old tomorrow, and his friends and admirers are arranging to appropriately celebrate the anniversary. In point of service Mr. Winter undoubtedly is the oldest as well as the most eminent critic of the drama in America. For more than forty years he has served continuously as the dramatic critic of the New York Tribune. Prior to becoming a member of the Tribune staff he had put in a decade or more in literary work for various publications. In view of his advanced age his literary activity is remarkable and he is still one of the most industrious workers in professional service. In addition to his criticisms and several books on the drama he has written much poetry of a high class.

Maurice J. Clark of Chicago is visiting at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. A. W. Baldwin, 153 East street.

REMBRANDT JUBILEE OCCUPIES HOLLAND

Three Hundredth Anniversary of Famous Painter's Birth Is Being Widely Celebrated.

Amsterdam, July 14.—For the next three or four days the attention of all Holland will be centered in the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the birth of Rembrandt, the master painter. In all the principal towns of the kingdom there is to be some sort of commemoration, but the most notable of them take place at Leyden, where Rembrandt was born, and in this city, where he worked and died. The celebration at Leyden began today with the unveiling of a handsome bronze monument of the great painter. Simultaneously there was opened a memorial exhibition of Rembrandt's works. In this city the celebration will be ushered in tomorrow morning with the ringing of church bells, followed by a grand procession past the Rembrandt monument. Monday there will be commemorative services in the town hall attended by Queen Wilhelmina and the Prince Consort. In the evening the principal streets will be illuminated and there will be concerts in the theatres and public parks. Another feature of the celebration in Amsterdam will be the dedication of memorial tablets on Rembrandt's grave in the Westerkerk and on the house in the Breestraat in which he died.

JANESVILLE PEOPLE INVESTED MILLION

Much Capital Put Into Western Mines While Home Business Has Suffered.

"Fully one million dollars of Janesville capital and savings has been poured in the lead and zinc regions of Southwestern Wisconsin during the past year," said a local business man yesterday. "It is hard to realize," he continued, "how many people in all the various walks of life have invested in mining stock. Some have put in vast sums, while others, less capable financially, have let go of all the ready money they possessed and even borrowed. Only time will tell what the returns will be, but one result has been very noticeable. This was in the rather poor business enjoyed during the season just ended by local merchants. Weather may have been partially responsible for lack of trade, but surely scarcity of ready money is the prime reason."

C., July 14.—Isaac Lylerly, a wealthy merchant and farmer, and his wife and three young children were murdered at their home a mile east of Barber Junction at three o'clock this morning by unknown parties who robbed the house and set fire to the bed on which Mr. and Mrs. Lylerly were killed. It is thought the victims were killed with clubs. Two negroes are reported to have been arrested.

A. P. BURNHAM AND HIS PARTNER WON

High Score in Wednesday's Tourney of American Whist League at City of Boston.

It was "Hats off to Wisconsin" at the conclusion of the Wednesday contest of the American Whist league, which has been holding its sixteenth annual congress in the city of Boston this week with representative players from nearly every state in the union in attendance. Arthur P. Burnham of Janesville and Mrs. Emma Dafford of Marquette in a succession of beautiful plays won the high score of the day 99 plus, and captured the handsome medals offered for the event. The distinction of besting the experts of the nation in a single day's play is one of which they and their friends in the Badger state will be justly proud. The tournament comes to an end today and Mr. Burnham is expected home Monday.

Walther League Meeting

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14.—Several score of delegates are in Buffalo to attend the annual national convention of the Walther League, which will begin a four days' session tomorrow. The league has a considerable membership in New York, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan, and in several of the Canadian provinces.

WIG WAG GOSSIP OF POLITICIANS

WHAT IS DOING THROUGHOUT STATE IN POLITICAL WAY.

WHAT WILL BE DONE NEXT?

Madison Correspondent Makes Statements Regarding the Situation at the Capital.

Madison, Wis., July 14.—One of the prettiest congressional campaigns in the entire country was precipitated in the second district of Wisconsin by the death of Congressman H. C. Adams in Chicago last Monday. "Cully" Adams was not laid in his grave before a storm of protest went up from all over the district against the seeming danger of the election of John M. Nelson, a young politician of Madison, as the successor of Adams in congress. Adams' death has caused him to be praised far beyond what was accorded during his lifetime, and thus the attacks Nelson made upon Adams have turned against the young aspirant. It will be a race against a powerfully perfected organization, in which the large influence of Senator La Follette will be found in favor of Nelson. J. Q. Emery of Albion, Dane county, present state dairy and food commissioner, in which office he succeeded and carried out the plans of Mr. Adams four years ago, will probably be brought out in this county and George Kispert in Jefferson county. Mr. Emery is the choice of ex-Gov. Hoard and one of the most popular men in the district. He was formerly state superintendent of schools and while not a machine politician, has qualities that would make him a strong candidate. Mr. Nelson is a brilliant young man, but his activity in politics has made enemies who are influential and who would work hard to head him off.

Much Interest.
While Madison is the center of the second district much interest is also felt in the first and third district fights as well as the Ninth. Babcock in the third appears to have the conditions well in hand and it will be surprising if he is defeated for nomination, although it is known every pressure possible will be brought against him. Whether the Senator will himself direct the fight or leave it to his lieutenants is not known. In fact, La Follette seems undecided regarding what attitude he should pursue as to the congressional fight. In the winter it was announced that he would speak in the first and third districts in favor of Cooper, and against Jeffries in the first and against Babcock, the "Fat Friar," as he is lovingly called by his enemies. With Jeffries out in the first district La Follette's threat to help Cooper is wasted and it is possible he will decide to allow the first district congressman fight his own battle and turn his attention to someone else. Of the possibilities Minor of the Ninth appears to be his favorite.

Aid Stephen.
This would seem probable for two reasons. First, Stephenson, La Follette's former "Angel," does not approve of Lenroot's campaign, but wants Hutton to run for Governor, and second, because Minor has given Uncle Ike a slap in the face by the appointment of the Marquette postmaster against his wishes. If by defeating Minor he can win "Uncle Ike" over to his own belief he will have accomplished a good act and buttered his bread for some time to come. Then, too, Minor is personally objectionable to La Follette. At the last state convention Minor was one of the congressmen to appear at the Opera House convention and associate himself with Senators Spooner and Charles and the former strong men of the republican party against the wishes of the state ring. This is enough in itself to make Minor subject for slaughter, if for no other reason. However, there is the possibility that the Senator will not take any active part in the state campaign, but allow matters to take their own course, merely directing.

Gaining Strength.
Here in Madison the opinion appears to be that Davidson is gaining strength, that he and Connor have built up breastworks that it will be hard to take by assault. The state chairman is a wise politician and it is argued that if he were not certain that he would win out he would not have allied himself with Davidson. The cry that the stalwart support would kill Davidson appears to have been unfounded. With few exceptions the stalwarts appear to have stood aloof from the entire squabble. It is even hinted that some of them favor Lenroot. It is known, however, that Lenroot has but little hopes in this direction and that he is making public declarations that no overtures are being made to this faction, even boasting of it, while his followers and candidates on his side are privately writing personal friends among this faction begging for aid and help of any sort. This situation is amusing.

Weather No Bar.
The campaign may now be said to be officially on. While Lenroot has been hustling ever since last fall, McGillicray, even earlier, Davidson does not appear to have really begun active work until a few weeks ago. Meanwhile the way has been paved for hot and furious campaigning, and it is about to begin. The September primaries, when it is all to be settled, is not so far away now and the candidates realize that their best bets must come now or not at all.

Auto Party Here. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wild and daughter, and a chauffeur arrived in a touring car this morning and are spending the day in Janesville.

BADGERS' SHARE PIE AND PORK

APPROPRIATIONS FOR POST OFFICES IN WISCONSIN.

THE OMNIBUS BUILDING BILL

An Explanation of Some Methods Used in Securing Money For Government Improvements.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 12.—The country is so familiar with the method of drafting and passing the omnibus public buildings bill, one of which is usually passed during every congress, that comment on its general features may be superfluous. The public buildings bill is known as the "pie counter" while the rivers and harbors bill is known as the "pie barrel." These are the two great appropriation bills by which the members of congress endeavor themselves to their constituents and they are usually arranged so that the member who gets a public building bill through one session is left out of the river and harbor bill the next session unless it is absolutely necessary to have his vote. It would be too much to say that the make-up of these bills depends entirely on the number of votes because the element of justice enters into the matter to some extent; but there is no question that the pork and pie is divided as far as possible, so that the member getting a slice of one will not get a slice of the other. Thus a member may get a public building bill during one congress and in the next get an appropriation for some creek in his district, but it is only the larger and most important districts in the country who can hope to obtain an appropriation for a river and harbor improvement and also for a public building during the life of one congress, which is two years.

In the great omnibus public buildings bill thirteen plums fell to the share of Wisconsin. It was not all that the members asked, but they fared much better than did some of their colleagues from other states. The Wisconsin delegation presented bills as follows:

Mr. Cooper, Kenosha, $75,000; Beloit, $75,000.

Mr. Jenkins, Chippewa Falls, $75,000.

Mr. Welsse, Beaver Dam, $50,000; Sheboygan, $35,000.

Mr. Minor, Appleton, $100,000; Marinette, $100,000; Green Bay, $35,000.

Mr. Davidson, Stevens Point, $100,000; Manitowoc, $100,000.

Mr. Lesch, Lacrosse, $50,000; Eau Claire, $52,000.

Mr. Brown, Wausau, $30,000.

Mr. Babcock, Baraboo, $2,500; Platteville, $50,000.

Mr. Adams, Watertown, $50,000.

Mr. Stafford, Waukesha, $100,000.

The bill as finally passed provided as follows:

To increase the limit of cost of buildings now under construction:

Postoffice at Baraboo, $25,000; postoffice and court house at Eau Claire, in the purchase of additional ground, $20,000; postoffice and court house, Green Bay, $35,000; postoffice and land office, Wausau, $30,000.

For improvements, enlargement or repairs:

Postoffice, Sheboygan, $30,000.

For the erection of building on ground now owned by the United States:

Postoffice at Chippewa Falls, $70,000.

For the purchase of sites and the erection of buildings:

Postoffice at Kenosha, $75,000; postoffice at Manitowoc, $75,000; postoffice at Platteville, $40,000.

For the purchase of sites for buildings to be erected in the future:

Postoffice at Appleton, $15,000; postoffice at Beloit, $20,000; postoffice at Watertown, $8,000; postoffice at Waukesha, $10,000.

In the selection and purchase of sites for proposed government buildings the Secretary of the Treasury is required to take into consideration the present needs of the government, and the future growth of the cities, and it is provided that in no case shall the dimensions thereof be of sufficient size for a building that will accommodate all the government offices now located or that are likely to be located in the near future in the city.

RAIN TODAY MEANS
FORTY DAYS OF IT

Such is Belief of Those Who Put Faith in Superstitious Legend of Christian Origin.

St. Swifth's day, if thou dost rain,
For forty days it will remain;
St. Swifth's day, if thou be fair,
For forty days 'twill rain nae mair.

Sunday, July 15, is St. Swifth's day. According to the popular superstition, if it rains today it will be followed by six rainy Sundays, so if the boys and girls do not want their Sunday outings spoiled for a good part of the summer they had better get busy and invoke the good will of St. Swifth.

St. Swifth, bishop of Winchester, was, according to legend, a man equally noted for uprightness and humility. So far did he carry the latter virtue that on his deathbed he requested to be buried not within the church, but outside the churchyard on the north of the sacred building, where his corpse might receive the grave-droppings from the roof and his grave be trodden by the feet of passersby. His lowly request was complied with, and in this neglected spot his remains reposed until about 100 years afterward, when a fit of pious indignation seized the clergy at the fact that the body of so holy a member of their order was allowed to occupy such a position, and on an appointed day they all assembled to convey it with great pomp to the adjoining cathedral of Winchester. When they were about to commence the ceremony a heavy rain burst forth and continued without intermission for the succeeding forty days. The monks interpreted this tempest as a warning from heaven of the blasphemous nature of their attempt to contravene the direction of St. Swifth, and instead of disturbing his remains they erected a chapel over his grave.

AN EXPLANATION OF BACKWARD SEASONS

Investigations by State Experiment Station as to Late Flowering of Fruit Trees.

That there is little relation between the spring temperature and the time of flowering of fruit trees, but that the temperature and other climatic conditions during the preceding summer and fall have much to do with the time of flowering, the so-called "forward" or "backward" season, are the conclusions of investigations recently carried on by Prof. E. P. Sandsten, professor of horticulture at the University of Wisconsin. The results of these investigations are set forth in a series of tables in the latest of the agricultural experiment station bulletins. The problem of the relations between the climatic conditions and the time of flowering of fruit trees has until recently been given but little attention. For this reason the investigations made for the State Agricultural Experiment Station by Prof. Sandsten, on conditions that affect the time of the annual flowering of fruit trees, are of unusual interest.

Before these investigations it had been found, in a general way, that plants and trees native to the north flower earlier than like plants transferred from the south. Little had been done experimentally, however, to determine the relative importance of the factors which are responsible for the particular difference in behavior. While it was known that temperature, sunshine, and moisture are the most important factors in determining the time of flowering of plants, there are other conditions, as the age of the trees, plant individuality, plant food, altitude, geographical peculiarities, and distribution of rainfall, which are also important. These the experiment station has used as a basis for investigation.

What causes a given variety of fruit to flower at a certain time, and what causes the yearly differences in the time at which such variety opens its flowers? The farmer or fruit grower is accustomed to ascribe the difference to a "forward" or "backward" season, according to the progress of the crops, but that is arguing in a circle. Some students have held that the difference is due to temperature alone, saying that a given plant will flower when it has received a given number of heat units above the temperature required to start the plant's activities. Hence, if the season is cold trees will flower later than if the temperature had been higher. This Prof. Sandsten has found true to some extent, and by computing temperatures, first through the season when the fruit buds are forming, and afterward through the season from January to the time of bloom, he has found the definite number of heat units which is called the "physiological constant" required for a given species to come to bloom.

Heavy Crop Retards Next Season.

The amount of fruit borne by a tree one year greatly affects the formation of fruit buds for the next. A heavy crop invariably delays such formation, and causes the buds to enter the winter state partially developed. The production of a large crop and the amount of fruit borne by a tree one year greatly affects the formation of fruit buds for the next. ## ...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Janesville, Daily Gazette, Saturday, July 14th, 1866.—Notwithstanding the favorable accounts we have been publishing of the Indian Commission, the Sioux and Cheyennes, if our despatches are correct, are proving themselves utterly destitute of good faith and unworthy of the confidence of the government. They may have had provocation to justify their conduct but we cannot now see any excuse for them.

Chilly.—The weather has assumed the moderate temperature of 94 degrees in the shade today.

Rumors.—There was no lack of rumors yesterday of cases of stroke, and we nearly got a "stroke" ourselves in trying to trace out their truth or falsity. We found that one experience of the kind was sufficient.

seed to produce a whole crop of casualties. Only two men that we could ascertain, were seriously affected. One a man engaged in laying iron on the railroad, and another a man from the country who drove into town about noon yesterday. Both were badly off for a while, but are in a fair way to recover, we learn. It was terrible weather; the thermometer in some localities indicating 100 in the shade and 115 and 120 in the sun. The wonder is that more persons were not injured.

Arrested for Kicking in a Door.—A young man named Billy Doyer was taken up this afternoon for kicking in the door of Mr. Horton on Milwaukee street, who keeps confectionery, stationery, etc. Whether the young man wanted any of the goods kept in the establishment or whether he did it just for fun we did not learn.

THE LIBRARY RESEARCHER

Men Employed by Cranks to Delve Into Musty Tomes for Information.

Says the New York Times. In the reading rooms of the New York public libraries one may see almost any day mysterious, often speedy-looking persons surrounded by musty tomes, making copious notes. These individuals are frequently the subject of remark. Who employs them, and where are their notes published? The explanation is that most of these mysterious persons are experts in research, and at least two of them are able to scrape together $1,500 a year, but they are the very principles of their profession. They are not seedy. Both are highly educated, cultured men past middle age, and were at one time wealthy.

There is a vast multitude of cranks in our country, and as most of them are people of means, they are often of use to the needier members of society. Many library researchers receive a good slice of their yearly income from these cranks. Thus some unknown gentleman has conceived the idea that Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire is crawling with errors, and he has been employing for some time three library researchers at a salary of $20 a week each to make a systematic examination of every statement of fact in that mighty work and collate all the evidence obtainable on each work. Another gentleman has a peculiar idea about the head of Paul Jones and, contemplating a treatise on the subject is paying a researcher a good salary to ransack every book in the New York public libraries likely to yield a grain of information.

Sleeping Sickness Spreading.—It is estimated that from 400,000 to 500,000 natives have died in Africa of sleeping sickness in the last ten years. The disease is moreover spreading with alarming rapidity yet nothing is done to check it. The weight of opinion is that no person once infected ever recovers. Despite its name, sleep is not an important symptom, as it occurs only toward the end of the disease in a small number of cases.

For Billiousness—Just try this splendid bowel laxative—LAX-ETS, ONLY 5 CENTS. It promotes full and regular bowel action, promptly and without pain or cramping. Medicine knows no surer method, no better way, to relieve biliousness, bad breath, muddy or yellow complexion, dull headaches, constipation, etc. Pleasant to take, and never fails. OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Open the door of your heart, my

To the angels of love and truth.

When the world is full of unnumbered joys.

In the beautiful dawn of youth.

Casting aside all things that mar.

Saying to wrong, "Depart!"

To the voices of hope that are calling you

Open the door of your heart.

Open the door of your heart, my

To the things that shall abide.

To the holy thoughts that lift your

soul

Like the stars at eventide.

All of the fadeless flowers that bloom

In the realms of song and art

Are yours, if you'll only give them

room.

Open the door of your heart.

Open the door of your heart, my

To the things that shall abide.

To the holy thoughts that lift your

soul

Like the stars at eventide.

All of the fadeless flowers that bloom

In the realms of song and art

Are yours, if you'll only give them

room.

Open the door of your heart.

This little poem is from the pen of Edward Everett Hale. It contains

so much that is suggestive of purity and helpfulness that it merits more than passing thought.

The heart represents more than the organ which works with ceaseless energy from the dawn of life to the close of the drama, and which pulses and throbs through the years with such monotonous regularity that its presence is seldom recognized.

The heart is known as the fountain of life. More important than any and all other organs combined. A man may be crippled beyond recognition; he may go through life maimed and disabled to the last degree, but so long as the heart performs its functions, vitality continues and he lives on.

In the operating room of every hospital two men share responsibility.

The surgeon, with all the skill which careful study and long experience has developed, depends on the man, equally skillful in his department, who administers the anesthetic and detects with quick eye and skillful touch the action of the heart as it tolls on faithfully performing its mission, while every other sensibility is as dead as it ever will be.

as they are about its present environments.

This is the thought that Professor

Hale had in mind when he wrote the little poem. He related the importance of an open door, so far as the heart is concerned, for he knew enough of life to recognize the fact that when the heart is right, the channel of safety is close at hand.

His advice to the "lad and lass" is very significant, for they stand at the threshold of the years which stretch out into an unknown future, and the right equipment of the heart is necessary to a successful journey.

It is worth much to possess a well developed body and a well stored mind at 20, but it is worth vastly more to possess a heart that is pure and clean and that throbs in sympathy with humanity.

As the physical organ, the heart is the fountain of life, so the spiritual organ, the soul, is the inspiration of life. Men and women fail or succeed in proportion to the amount of heart investment.

The expression is often heard, "He has no heart in his work," and it always means failure. Men are more than machines and what makes them more is the subtle influence which holds them like a magnet until purposes is accomplished.

The voices which prompt to duty are the silent voices. If the heart has been kept pure and wholesome these voices control action and direct energies. While the precinct of the heart is a sacred precinct, yet an open door to the side of humanity makes the world akin.

Money is a wonderful power, and ability is a lever which accomplishes great results, but money and ability are not a universal heritage. Above and beyond the power of either so far as the individual life is concerned, is the open door heart, ready to receive and as ready to impart. Fortunate is the boy and girl who enters life with this kind of a heart.

Congressman Cooper is flooding the mails of the first district with packages of pamphlets and wall maps in the hopes of gaining the votes he lost by his vote against the interest of his constituents.

Janesville is slowly securing better sidewalks even if the streets will resemble a Chinese puzzle when the city engineer gets through laying the grade.

History often repeats itself, but Taft's endeavors in the South do not promise sweeping republican majorities as did the reconstruction days.

The hotter the weather the worse the "varmints" fight. The same is true of politicians. Like corn they fourish in hot weather.

Old settlers are fanning themselves and telling how hot it was forty years ago.

So Rock county is to be the battle ground of another factional fight.

See em Tige. Go on Rover.

Now that the heat and weather has come some of the people want it to rain.

Fish stories are told in hot weather

just as well as they are in cold.

TOBACCO BUYERS ARE STARTING AT WORK

Crawford and Vernon Counties Are

the Scenes of Much Activity

At Present.

While hundreds of buyers have been making a hot-foot campaign in the Crawford and Vernon county sections during the week, the amount of tobacco actually placed under contract is small compared with the effort made in trying to obtain the signatures of growers to some kind of option or contract that will secure the prospective crop. Estimates of the amount secured run all the way from 500 to 1,000 acres up to date, but with growers asking from 15 to 20 cents and a large proportion of them refusing to entertain any offer at this time. It is quite generally believed the market is pretty well blocked and the rush will subside for the present, for buyers are already deserting the field. It is a noticeable thing that none of the large operators have thus far caught the infection or have joined in the chase, though keeping themselves fully posted on what is going on. Neither is the general condition of the crop reassuring in the section where most of the buying has taken place. Some of the valleys have suffered from the heavy floods that washed out the early settings, while in other sections drought is beginning to be felt.

It is told that growers who have contracted their tobacco at 15 cents are hustling around trying to find plants to complete their setting, the demand being so great that $5 per thousand is offered for plants. Altogether the situation is not such that would appeal to conservative business men.

In the southern counties the crop is looking well, but rains would now be welcomed. Some riding is also being done, here but only a few growers are caught napping or willing to contract at prices the buyers feel justified in offering.

While interest is so strongly centered in the outcome of the new crop, very little attention is paid to cured leaf, though a moderate business supplying the manufacturers with small lots is carried on.

The shipments out of storage reach about 400 cases for the week to all points from this market.

This Proposition Is Now Up

Can we longer afford to overlook the fact that we can secure the very best of dental service at about half the rates we have been paying? Dr. Richards of Janesville, the independent dentist, says he would be delighted to have his work (put out at a modest price) compared with work done by others at possibly double his prices. He affirms that the comparison will establish the fact that:

His work is good in every respect.
His work is lasting.
His work is done thoroughly.
His work is substantial, and, in fact, not excelled by that of any other local dentist.

In addition to the reasonableness of his prices he gives close attention to painless work. Now see what you get by having him do your dental work.

CHANGES MADE IN KINDS OF SEEDS

PURCHASERS ARE DECIDED IN THEIR LIKES AND DISLIKES.

THE STYLES CHANGE YEARLY

Old Seeds Come Back Into Fashion After Years of Disuse by Growers.

People who have been in the business of selling various kinds of seeds for gardens and farming, have noticed that there is a gradual change in the demand for different kinds of seeds. They look back and note the demand that once existed for certain seeds which has changed because of the desire for something new each year. Some seeds that were once popular, through the country are nowhere to be found. There are some of course, which are being used, but there is a change in the plant itself. The change is more so in the garden flowers than in the vegetable product. The pansy, nasturtium, sweet peas, astors and phlox have always been popular flowers and seem to be more so now than ever before. The demand for these has increased with each year. Sweet peas especially are getting more popular as the seasons advance. The people want a change each year, and calls for foreign seeds and seeds from the South are being heard oftener as the time advances. In the farming seed the flat turnip seems to have gained the great percentage in advance. These vegetables which were at one time only grown in small quantities in the home garden are now being planted in the fields of wheat, and as the wheat is cut the turnips lay close to the top of the ground ready to be pulled. Mr. Helms, the local seed dealer, says that some years ago his call for these seeds was about 25 pounds a season, but now there are some 500 pounds sold in his store alone. Clover and timothy are also being bought to a larger extent than in years previous. Whether or not the farmers are putting more of their land to pasture and raising more livestock is a question that is yet to be answered. The farmers say that there is no better fertilizer than the clover seed. It takes the nitrogen from the air and puts it in the soil. This is what a good fertilizer should do. Nitrogen fertilization is one of the most important studies of the students in the agricultural course at the university. The pumpkin, which was once raised by nearly every farmer, is now almost forgotten. This is answered by the fact that the pumpkin was most always raised between hills of corn, but now because of the cultivators instead of the old hoe method the raising of this pie product is next to impossible. The same seems to be the case with watermelons, but still little crops are grown by the farmers in patches saved for that purpose. The Okra or Gumbo, another kind of people, seems to be making the place of the commonly used Brussels sprout. It is taking the place of the cabbage because of its excellent good qualities as greens. The Swiss chard is being grown to a large extent as greens. This plant looks like the beet but it is all top with little underneath the ground. The vine is also in great demand and people realize that a great improvement can be made in the appearance of a building by the addition of a few vines.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Warm Weather Amenities: Even in the heated spell there be some who cling fast to their standards of etiquette and conduct, frowning on any deviation, however trifling. A lady entered a local shoe store this morning and after glaring at a clerk in shirt-sleeves who essayed to fit on a pair of shoes, complained to the manager that "she was not accustomed to having half-dressed men wait upon her." The poor clerk was covered with confusion and the immediate championing of the woman's cause by the feigned indignation manager did not help the situation. Moreover not even the ghost of a joke lurked anywhere in the vicinity.
Go to New Glarus: About 20 Fresh Air Children from Chicago went to New Glarus over the C. & M. & St. P. road Friday morning for a two weeks' outing.
Garnishee Action Decided: In Justice Barle's court Judge Reader found for the defendant in the action of Dr. W. D. Merritt vs. Monroe Armfield, with Charles Norton garnisheed, and the costs were taxed to the plaintiff.
Edward O. Smith left today for Oshkosh, where he will attend the summer festival.

AUTO ACCIDENTS ARE FREQUENT NOWADAYS

Little Attention Is Now Paid to Them They Are So Frequent and Harmless.

Since Janesville became an automobile town accidents of automobiles have become so frequent that little attention is paid to them. The mere fact that a party gets stranded in the country by a punctured tire or a breakdown on a telephone wire or a broken down car, is considered a minor annoyance. To hasten his ambulance out with his repair kit surprises no one. It is expected. Every day some auto party returns to the city in a farmer's wagon after a breakdown four or five miles out and some times auto cars are left by the road for a night. Four years ago a little runabout was a fine machine. Now it takes a forty or fifty-horsepower machine to make people look a second time. The three Wintons owned by Messrs. Carle, Jeffris and Harris were the biggest in town until Frank Blodgett purchased his forty-horsepower Ford. Now David Holmes is daily expecting a sixty-horsepower Pope Toledo and he will carry premier honors. The makes of the different machines are varied. Every day some new car is seen on the streets, and Janesville is fast becoming the automobile center for traveling. Even Ashland parties ship their machines a hundred miles to enjoy spins over the roads of southern Wisconsin. Janesville, to Chicago is merely a passing place for autos. During the past few weeks over two hundred visiting autos have paid Janesville a "howdy-do" and some of them have repeated the visit. Stopping in the middle of the bridge for a supply of gasoline or backing into a curb or even losing part of the occupants of the car out of the back seat are merely incidents not mentioned in auto talk. The conversation at polite company now is regarding crank shafts, the "you-know-what," the breaking of the "spellblender" or the dripping of the "catch-meal" terms familiar to motorists, but Greek to most of the outsiders. The automobile has come to stay and Janesville is even in line for an automobile factory, although this last fact is spoken of in whispers. It is true that promoters looking for a location have visited Janesville, but what they have decided or what the Advancement Association has decided is still a dread secret only spoken of in whispers. "To be or not to be?" That is the question.

COULDN'T MAKE THE COMBINATION WORK

Janesville Team of Eagles and Red Sox Lost at Milton—Another Combination Playing Today.

"Janesville" was defeated on the diamond by the Milton Crescents at Milton yesterday afternoon, and by a score that wasn't entirely close, either—eight and four. The game was fact from start to finish and despite the fact that the local nine was from the ranks of both the Eagles and Red Sox, Milton played the better ball. The combination of rivals was as follows: Wendt, C. Hutchinson, P. Ward, H. Casey, 2b. Carle, ss. Connors, 3b. Hall, 1b. Dunwiddle, cf. Clarke, rf.

Red Sox at Footville
With several members of the team recruited from the Eagles' list the Red Sox are playing Footville at Footville this afternoon. Whether the changes in the Sox line-up are for the better or not will be told by the score for the Footville team a few weeks ago took a close game from the locals. The line-up is as follows: Casey, c. G. Schmidt, p. Ward, 1b. Connors, 2b. Carle, ss. Karl, 3b. P. Schmidt, lf. Hill, cf. Clarke, rf.

Crescents With Sox
Tomorrow the Red Sox are to meet the "Fallers" of Madison in the Capital City. The Red Sox hope to win and on their team will have two Milton Crescents.

At Athletic Park Today
At Athletic Park this afternoon the Janesville Y. M. C. A. is crossing bats with the Beloit Association. The Janesville team is composed of the following: J. A. Ward, C. Heise, B. Kline, F. Wilkerson, G. Adkins, W. Heise, Rollo Dobson, Strang, and W. Gregory.

Would Play for Purse
Flushed with their recent victories over many teams in this part of the state, the Milton Crescents are now seeking a game with the Janesville Eagles, the contest to be played for a purse contributed from the two managements. It is very likely the locals will be ready to accept the offer when it is made.

Ziegler Clothing Co. Will Have an Enormous Sale of Lewis Underwear.

On next Tuesday morning the T. J. Ziegler Clothing Co. will open an enormous sale on the Lewis underwear. This is without doubt the most popular line of underwear on the market today and some time ago the Lewis company gave the Ziegler Clothing Co. the exclusive sale of the men's garments for this city and the line has been handled with wonderful success. People who have worn the goods have been perfectly satisfied, and have become steady customers. While it is not a cheap garment, it has the workmanship and quality to warrant the expenditure of the extra money in purchasing. In order to introduce these goods to people who have not as yet worn them the Lewis company has placed with Ziegler Clothing Co. their entire stock of samples and these morning at just one-half the regular price. The garments are perfect in every respect and are the same in every way as the garments that are sold from the regular stock at other seasons of the year. This will be a rare opportunity to secure this best of all underwear at less than the price of the cheapest brands. Watch for the big ad in Monday night's paper and be prepared to take advantage of the biggest underwear bargains ever offered here.

If you were going to build a house, you would like to see some of the builder's work, wouldn't you? Of course you would, and if he were an honest, competent workman, he would be glad to "show you." Just so in the monument business. We'll be glad to show you samples of our work, not only as it stands on the floor of our stock room, but will take you to the cemetery and show you the work after it is cut, finished and set. You can see for yourself then and don't have to take our word for it.

BRESEE

A Useful Light for Merchants
The New Gas Light Co. has just placed in front of their office three new gas arc lights. These lights are particularly adaptable to lighting the show windows of "business" houses. They are placed just outside the window and the light is so powerful and brilliant that not only the street and walk are lighted but the windows are made as bright as day. Window illumination, particularly during the summer evenings, when the streets are crowded with people, is a necessity, and there is no more satisfactory way of doing it than with the gas arc light.

JANESVILLE CATS IN NEED OF DOCTORING

Many Feline and Also Canine Pets Are Cared For by Local Veterinarians.

Many people think more of their cats and their dogs than they do of their own children. The statement is startling, enough, but it would seem to be born out by the amount of solatium displayed by Janesville people over the health and physical welfare of their feline and canine pets. Local veterinarians divide their business between caring for horses and attending to the ills of household favorites. Their patients come in the various stages of convalescence from accidents, sprains, internal hurts, stomach trouble, and the "thousand ills that flesh is heir to."

"Cat doctoring" is rarely considered among the advanced sciences, especially in the west, but one Janesville "horse doctor" is the authority for the statement that if veterinarians were to refuse such patronage there would be a great howl from a large majority of the country's population. "Not at day passes that we do not have at least two calls from owners of pet cats or kittens," said he today. "Most of the calls come from women, but occasionally they send a male member of the family to us with their complaint. The most general affliction to which the feline is heir is some hurt, such as feet injured in steel traps, maulings and scratches from a belligerent tomcat, feet squeezed in doors, and that sort of thing. Usually it is not difficult to care for their injuries. Occasionally, however, we have cases of internal trouble, such as indigestion or some form of catarrhal inflammation. Cats in the best of regulated families are predisposed to mange, and that is a common ailment. It is not a professional secret to tell that the most simple and effective remedy for that trouble is the liberal application of a mixture of lard and powdered sulphur to the afflicted parts. The cat licks the greasy stuff, the sulphur purifies the blood, and the lard, heals the angry surface. This morning I had a 'sad' case. A young woman not far from here sent for me and when I arrived I found two of them crying over their pet. They thought he was dying. He had been tramping through somebody's back yard—somebody who didn't like cats and had come to blows with a steel trap. His foot was badly torn, but it was soon fixed up and, tummy with soon be able to make more back yard excursions. But the way they wept over that cat made me feel like having a decided opinion on the proportion of feeling and affection for children and for cats. Of course, caring for cats and dogs is a sort of sideline, and less important than our work with horses, but it would be larger if we were disposed to allow it to become so. In the larger cities, many veterinarians and even full-fledged M.D.s make a specialty of 'cats and dogs' to the exclusion of other work, and they find plenty to keep them busy."

ITALIANS MURDER BADGER MARSHAL

TRACK WORKERS USE SHOVELS ON OFFICIALS.

WORKMEN RESIST ARREST

Charged with Violation of Game Laws They Allow One Man to Be Taken to Jail, Then Attack Police.

La Crosse, Wis., July 14.—Deputy Sheriff Hamill of Pierce county, Wis., was dangerously wounded and City Marshal Isaacs, of Prescott, Wis., killed in an attempt to arrest members of a gang of Italian laborers near Prescott, late Friday.

Hamill and Isaacs visited a gang of 50 Italians, employed in track work on the Burlington and served warrants on several men wanted for violations of the Wisconsin game laws.

One of the defendants was lodged safely in jail, but when the officers returned for the others, the Italians turned on them with their shovels, beat Isaacs to death and wounded Hamill so badly that he was thought to be dead.

Murderers Escape. Six men were implicated in the murder, and they immediately made their escape on a hand car going south. A posse was started out after them from Prescott, and another was formed at Diamond Bluff, the station below, to head them off. Thus far the fugitives have not been located.

If overtaken, it is considered probable that all will be lynched, as the local posse have no official character, but are made up of friends of the two officers, who are determined to revenge the assault upon them. Marshal Isaacs is expected to recover.

Find Abandoned Car.

Shortly after six o'clock the hand car on which the gang escaped was found two miles below Prescott. The fugitives apparently had taken to the woods, or to the Mississippi river.

Railroad gangs all along the west side of the river, where they are employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, have been instructed by the authorities to watch for the men. It is said that in their effort to cross the river they will run into this trap, though the laborers may have retired when the crossing was effected.

Sheriff Arrests Twelve. The sheriff of Pierce county and a posse succeeded in coming up with the Italians who had escaped on a hand car and arrested 12 of them without resistance. They were immediately taken to the jail at Ellsworth for safekeeping. It is not thought that any violence will be offered them.

VATICAN GOING TO PIECES

Pope Is Moving from Apartments, the Walls Being, It Is Said, in an Unsafe Condition.

Rome, May 14.—It has long been known that some parts of the Vatican are unsafe, but it has just been discovered that the palace is practically falling to pieces.

Even the corner where the pope's apartment is situated needs strengthening, and the pontiff is moving out.

The walls, which are cracked, bulging and leaning outward will be temporarily strengthened immediately.

To make the whole building safe will require more than $100,000.

Twenty Persons Injured. Santander, Spain, July 14.—In a collision of the Bilbao express with a freight train Friday 20 persons were injured.

Reichstag Leader Dead. Berlin, July 14.—Dr. Carl Sattler, one of the leaders of the National Liberal party in the Reichstag, died Friday.

Languages Most Spoken. The most spoken language is Chinese, but as there are so many dialects in the language, and as these differ so greatly in the confines of Mongolia and Tibet from those around Peking, it is scarcely correct to say that the 332,000,000 Celestials all speak one language.

Putting, therefore, Chinese aside the most spoken languages in the world are as follows: in millions: English, 120; German, 70; Russian, 63; Spanish, 44; Portuguese, 32. If we were to measure these in ratio on a two-foot rule we would get the following results: Portuguese, four inches; Spanish, 5 1/2 inches; Russian, 8 1/2 inches; German, 8 3/4 inches; English, 1 foot and 3 inches.

Civil War Veterans. Veterans of the civil war are dying now at the rate of 100 a day, according to the records of the United States pension office. The monthly reports for several months past have shown the death rate among the old soldiers to be in the neighborhood of 3,000 a month. Pension officials who have watched the figures closely and know the tendency of the death rate are of the opinion that the number of civil war pensioners has reached the maximum, and that hereafter each succeeding month will show a decrease.

The Usual Way. Mrs. Sleek is such a charming entertainer. She never leaves her guests for an instant.

"Of course not. She knows them too well. If she'd leave them for an instant they'd all begin to talk about her."—Detroit Free Press.

Armour Manager Is Fined. Judge Inflicts Penalty to Test Law Against Selling Unwholesome and Putrid Meat.

Fargo, N. D., July 14.—Manager Birks of the Fargo branch of Armour & Co., packers, charged with selling "unwholesome and putrid" meat, was fined $50 by Judge Ryan Friday. The court stated that the evident desire of both parties seemed to be to test the constitutionality of the meat inspection law and imposed the fine so that an appeal could be taken and a higher court pass on its validity. The evidence showed a delivery by the Armour concern and also an effort on the part of the manager to rectify the mistake, if any, upon notification. There was no testimony to the effect that the manager knew of the condition of the meat, but Commissioner Ladd testified as to its being bad.

Hint Jury Was Influenced. Department of Justice Probing Affairs in Connection with Standard Oil-Lake Shore Case.

Cleveland, O., July 14.—The department of justice, through Attorney General Moody, has begun to investigate thoroughly the actions of some of the federal grand jurors in the Standard Oil-Lake Shore rebate case here, according to dispatches received from Washington. If it can be established that any jurors were improperly influenced it is a foregone conclusion that they, and those who influenced them, will be prosecuted.

Department officials would like nothing better than to make a conspicuous example of an offender in that line. However, it is recognized in government circles that it will be extremely difficult to get conclusive evidence against any of the jurors, even if they are incriminated. The department's only recourse will be to have a new grand jury investigate the same case at Chicago, where it is hoped indictments may be obtained.

"MONEY WILL MAKE THE POT BOIL THOUGH THE DEVIL POUR WATER ON THE FIRE."

And Money---invested in Publicity---will make the store prosper, though assailed on all sides by "hoodoos," "bad luck," or murderous competition!

That "Money is POWER" has been conceded since the first coin came from the first mint.

But it has remained for the present generation to learn how to most effectually harness power, and make it do the world's work—how, by putting money to work, to make it a useful and a tractable power.

Changed into Newspaper Publicity, money reaches, perhaps, its highest effectiveness.

Newspaper advertising will send store-crowds where they were never before seen--will overcome the "bad location" hoodoo--will do away with "dull days" and "slow stocks"--will batter down, finally, every obstacle to complete store-success--and increasing store growth and profits.

If your Advertising Campaign is big enough, persistent enough, intelligent enough--if it embodies a "Selling Plan" for everything you have to sell--your business will prosper, no matter how many of your friends or enemies try to pour water on your fire!
